

2016 Arizona income tax credits available to Cochise County individuals

In 2016 the Arizona legislature amended the tax credit filing time to be April 18, 2017 - not December 31, 2016. This allows the state taxpayer to know their state income taxes due for 2016 and then take advantage of the various tax credits before filing their state (and federal) income tax returns. From a practical perspective, this permits the Cochise County state income tax filer(s) to maximize the tax credits which remain in Cochise County.

The total Arizona tax credits possible for 2016 are:

Single / Head of Household cap:	$2,387.00
Married Filing Jointly cap:	$4,773.00

This is a summary overview. Cochise County state income tax payers may designate state income taxes due be directed to specific entities within Cochise County and offset their state income tax obligation dollar for dollar within specific limits. The second worksheet, 2016 AZ tax credit forms , lists all of the 2016 tax credit forms required to claim tax credits. Each ensuing worksheet (tab) addresses specific opportunities available. If you have questions, you should consult with your income tax preparer for any tax advice regarding these tax credits.
